PRESIDENT TAFT FLAYS ROOSEVELT

SCORES T. R. IN PLAIN TERMS

Colonel's Appeal to "Class Hatred" Is Condemned by Executive at Springfield

Bitterly Arraigns the Former Official for Shifting Policies to Suit Occasion

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 25.—President Taft made his answer here today to the criticisms that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has made of him and his administration.

In a speech that bristled with indignation, in which he named Colonel Roosevelt over and over again, Taft told a crowd that filled Springfield public square how he believed Roosevelt had not given him a "square deal," and how he had "misstated" and "distorted" the facts concerning Taft's conduct and actions in the White House.

He replied in some detail to many of the charges that Colonel Roosevelt has made against him since the present campaign began. He took pains to make plain Roosevelt's knowledge of and complete agreement with many of the policies of the present administration which lately he has condemned and denounced.

SHIP'S POLICIES.
The President declared that after the Columbus speech of Colonel Roosevelt he found the country unresponsive and that he shifted his method of campaign from a declaration of "principles" and "proposals of reform to attacks on the administration."

"Money Trust" Probers Given More Power

House Paves Way for Broad Inquiry Into Trusts and the Transportation Interests.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The House passed today the Pujos resolution enlarging the powers of the so-called "money trust" investigating committee by a vote of 237 to 15. Under the new resolution the banking and currency committee will employ two attorneys and begin an exhaustive investigation of the inter-relationships between the financial interests and the industrial, commercial and transportation interests of the country.

Troops Rushed to Quell Race Riot in Louisiana

MONROE, La., April 25.—Company D of the Louisiana National Guard left here today for Delhi, thirty miles east, where serious trouble between whites and negroes developed last night. One negro was lynched and further disorder is feared.

Police Judge Hurt in Fall on Street

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Police Judge Charles Weller met with an accident at Sacramento and Fillmore streets last night when running to catch a car. He tripped on his overcoat and fell heavily to the sidewalk.

His right elbow was broken in the fall and he received a badly lacerated scalp and injuries to both knees. Several pedestrians picked him up and he was taken to his home, 2397 Pacific avenue. Later he was removed to a sanitarium, where his injuries were dressed and the broken arm set. He was later returned to his residence.

PRESCOTT CASE NEAR AN END

Slayer of Ralph F. Thompson May Know His Fate Late Today

Final Arguments Are Made; Accused Man's Wife Hears Story, Unmoved

With the life of Harry F. Prescott hanging in the balance, attorneys for the defense and prosecution are arguing upon evidence submitted during the last two days of his trial for the slaying of Ralph F. Thompson, whom he found in a bedroom with his wife, in the Prescott cottage, 1842 Adeline street, on February 28 last. Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey, in an opening argument which lasted for three-quarters of an hour, dwelt upon the tentative separation between Prescott and his wife Kate, which had extended over a period of several years. He adhered strictly to the wording of the law making murder a crime and intimated that in the three hours that the husband remained secreted in the cottage waiting the return of his wife he premeditated such an act as was committed shortly before midnight. He pointed out that even while Prescott followed them from the parlor to the bedroom armed with a revolver, he had time to reflect upon his intentions; he further pointed out that Prescott had no more right to carry a weapon in the first place than an average citizen and that his having one with him at the time signified some sinister intent.

That the divorce courts should have been his resort was emphasized, instead of the alleged wronged husband taking matters into his own hands.

TAKES EXCEPTION.
Attorney A. L. Frick, on behalf of the defendant, took exception to the suggestion of divorce, stating that the time Prescott returned to Oakland after having seen a letter in which his wife's name was mentioned in connection with midnight entertainments in the home, he merely went to the house seeking evidence in support of the allegations made against her name; he contended that in doing so the husband was in the right.

"In the procedure of seeking divorce, by counsel's own words, such an act might have been justified," declared Frick. "It is done every day in the year. Prescott had a right to be there in his own home and he had a right to learn what was going on there."

Frick's argument in summing up the testimony continued when court convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon and then the prosecution made its final argument lasting until nearly 3 o'clock, when the court instructed the jury.

Present in court today with the defendant, Harry Prescott, was his father, F. S. Prescott of East Oakland, who sat beside him throughout the proceedings.

MAJ. BUTT'S BODY IS FOUND

Remains of 205 Persons Are Picked Up by Cable Ship Mackay-Bennett

Many More Titanic Wreck Victims Are Floating Far Out on Ocean

NEW YORK, April 25.—Two hundred and five bodies of the victims of the Titanic disaster have been picked up at sea by the cable ship Mackay-Bennett, and are being taken to Halifax, N. S. The captain of the Mackay-Bennett confirms the identification of George D. Widener, son of P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, in a wireless dispatch today to the White Star Line, and gives the further information that the majority of the bodies will never come to the surface.

That the body of Major "Archie" Butt is among those recovered by the Mackay-Bennett is the belief of White Star officials, expressed today, following the receipt of a wireless dispatch from the cable ship giving the name "L. Butt" among the identified. The wireless list of identified dead was received in response to a request by the company, which desired to check off the names contained in the first list sent Monday. Today's list confirms all named in the first wireless with one exception.

TWO NAMES IN ONE.

In the first message there appeared the name of "Nihilshedig L. Butt." In the check-off list this name is separated into "Nihilshedig" and "L. Butt."

After an examination of all passenger lists the officers have been able to find only one "Butt," that being Archibald W. Butt, President Taft's military aid. There also is a "W. Butt" mentioned in the wireless, but it is said this refers to a member of the crew.

Of the 205 bodies recovered and now being brought to Halifax only 48 have been identified, having 162 unidentified dead on board.

Captain Larder of the Mackay-Bennett sends word through the Cape Race wireless station that the steamer has been drifting in a fog since noon yesterday. He does not indicate when he will reach Halifax. Bodies are floating upon the sea many miles east and west in latitude 41.35 north and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

MEDIATORS TRY TO SETTLE TROUBLE

NEW YORK, April 25.—Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, and Martin A. Knapp, presiding judge of the Commerce Court, who are endeavoring to bring about a settlement of the wage controversy between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and fifty Eastern railroads, conferred again today with the sub-committee of railroad managers.

The session was executive and at its conclusion Messrs. Neill and Knapp announced they would confer with the representatives of the engineers.

"Commissioner Neill declined to verify or deny a report that the railroads desired arbitration rather than mediation and had suggested that a board of nine arbitrators be appointed to settle the controversy."

Viola Carver on Way To Home in Tacoma

Thanks District Attorney for His Efforts in Freeing Her of Murder Charge.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—Miss Viola Carver, the Tacoma girl, who, at her Police Court hearing here last week, was freed from the charge of having murdered J. Edwin Edge, a young realty operator, whose death followed the discharge of a revolver in Miss Carver's hands, is on a train speeding toward the home of her parents in the Washington city, today.

Before departing from Los Angeles Miss Carver called at the office of District Attorney Fredericks to thank him and his deputies for the careful investigation they made of the condition of her mental faculties at the time Edge was killed. The police judge who discharged Miss Carver said the evidence seemed to show the shooting had been accidental.

Denies He Sent Messages to Operators Ordering Them to Hold Out for "Four Figures" and to Keep "Mouths Shut"

Aerograms Intercepted by Government Read by Senator Smith, Who Demands of Inventor on Witness Stand, "What Have You Got to Say About Them?"

ICE HOLDS SHIP HEADED FOR TITANIC

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the wireless and chairman of the Marconi Company, Limited, told the Senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster today that he authorized the wireless operators of the Carpathia and Titanic to sell the stories of the great catastrophe for publication.

Marconi explained that in giving consent for the sale he had not attempted in any way to suppress general information of the wreck. He denied any knowledge of wireless messages to the Carpathia's operators telling them to "keep your mouths shut," and hold out for "four figures." These messages, one of them signed "Marconi," was picked up by the United States battleship Florida the night the Carpathia was coming in and forwarded to the Secretary of the Navy. Marconi declared he never authorized these messages, but did give consent that the operators could receive money.

Marconi told of repeated attempts he had made Sunday, Monday and the days following the tragedy for information. Senator Smith said to Marconi:

"I would like to have your own best judgment as to whether the custom established by Operator Blinn in the Republic disaster of selling his news and the privilege you gave to Cottam in the Titanic disaster had anything to do with your failure to get this information and the public deprived of the details of this horror?"

Marconi said he did not think so and repeatedly insisted he had not attempted to suppress any details.

MINERS' STRIKE SETTLEMENT UNDER WAY

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Confirmation of the report that the anthracite miners and operators had reached an agreement in settlement of their dispute as to wages and hours of labor was given today in a statement from the office of President Baer. The statement reads:

"George F. Baer, the chairman of the operators' committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the general committee of operators and miners' representatives in New York May 2, to act on the report of the sub-committee to suggest a method of settling differences, the sub-committee having unanimously submitted a recommendation of conditions looking to an adjustment."

The terms and conditions of this report will not be made public until after the meeting of the general committee on May 2.

SIGN WAGE AGREEMENT.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 25.—Representatives of soft coal operators of Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana, and of the United Mine Workers of those states, signed today the wage agreement ratified by the recent referendum vote of the miners. The agreement will be the basis of contracts to be entered into for the next two years by the thousands of miners and operators of many states. It grants a wage increase of five cents a ton.

Signals of Distress Cease and Lights Vanish Beneath the Water

NEW YORK, April 25.—Officers of the Norwegian steamer Romsdal, which is in drydock here today, after a trip made perilous by field ice, believe they witnessed the sinking of a freight ship of about 800 tons in latitude 45.5, longitude 57.10, four hundred miles north of the Titanic's grave, on March 25. The identity of the sunken ship is not known. The Romsdal's attention was attracted to the distressed ship soon after night fall, when the vessel began sending up rockets showing that help was wanted. Captain Hell ordered that the Romsdal be headed for the scene, and his ship was run into the ice field with as much speed as possible. She had not gone far, however, before she had six or seven holes in her hull, which allowed much water to enter the hold. All hands were ordered to the pumps and the nineteen men of the crew were able to keep the water from gaining until temporary repairs were made. Meanwhile the rockets continued to ascend from the ship in distress but the Romsdal was helpless, for she, too, was fast in the ice. About midnight the rockets from the other vessel stopped and soon afterward her lights were seen to disappear beneath the waves. When daylight broke those on board the Romsdal were unable to find any trace of the sunken vessel. For three days the Romsdal was a prisoner in the ice. She finally worked her way out with six holes in her hull and her propeller blades broken.

BRITISHERS OBJECT TO SENATE INVESTIGATION

Resent Questions Which Are Being Hurled at Ismay and Other Englishmen

LONDON, April 25.—The British public is displaying much resentment at the course the American Senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster is taking regarding the detention of British subjects and the manner of their examination.

The matter is being discussed everywhere and the attitude generally is taken that J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine, and the crew of the Titanic were convicted before the hearing.

The subject is one of great anxiety in official circles and it is feared that should the Senate committee condemn the company and the crew, its action would give rise to ill-feeling between the two peoples. Thus far the British foreign office has simply asked Ambassador Bryce for information regarding the inquiry. The dissatisfaction of the public might be alleviated if it had a clearer idea as to the scope of intention of the American investigation. It is admitted the Senate has a perfect right to inquire into the death of Americans, but it is felt that the committee is going far beyond this.

Some of the questions asked by Senator Smith, chairman of the committee, are reproduced and editorially introduced in the newspaper today. The Globe refers to the Senator as a "born fool" and as "a gentleman from the wilds of Michigan, who possibly is competent in the sciences of electrocution to be as inept as possible to Englishmen. Unfortunately the investigation is very much in his hands and the best efforts of the more reputable senators hardly can serve to nullify the harm he has done."

LIGHTS OF TITANIC WERE SEEN FROM SHIP'S DECK

Passenger on Mount Temple Says Craft Ought to Have Reached Wreck in Time

STRATHCONA, Alberta, April 25.—E. W. Zurich, who crossed from Antwerp to St. John, N. B., on the steamer Mount Temple, said today that passengers on board the Mount Temple heard of the Titanic's distress at 12:15 o'clock Monday morning when a wireless call for help was caught.

Captain Moore changed his vessel's course at once and headed for the Titanic and began preparations for lending assistance but Zurich said a great field of ice loomed up ahead and the northern course was not held long. It was reported among crew and passengers, according to Zurich, that Captain Moore made no further efforts to penetrate the floes, ascertaining that he could not afford to endanger the 2000 persons aboard his ship.

The statement of Dr. Quetzman that passengers and crew believed they could see the lights of the unfortunate Titanic is borne out by Zurich. With two companion passengers he discovered the captain's orders, which forbade passengers' entrance to the upper deck at any time. It is fairly positive that they saw the lights of the Titanic and he says he is not ready to accept the assertion that the ship might have reached the spot where the wrecked liner lay at the time.

At any rate, he thinks that Mount Temple might have reached the spot where the Titanic sank and this suppo-

tion, he says, seems to have been entertained by others on board. "The vessel sighted the Carpathia next morning," Zurich says, "and I was told that the Carpathia was making for the wreck. Zurich also says the Mount Temple was in the ice fields of ice Sunday and Monday.

CAPTAIN DENIES IGNORING PLEA. ST. JOHN, N. B., April 25.—The rumormongers who claimed that the Mount Temple was within five miles of the Titanic when she sank and without heading signals of distress steamed away, were denied today by Captain Moore, who was in command of the vessel. He said:

"We received a wireless after midnight Sunday from the Titanic stating that she had struck an iceberg and to come at once. We turned about at 10 o'clock and steamed back to the position given us, arriving there at 4:30 o'clock. We encountered so much ice, however, that we stopped until daylight. We cruised about, but could not see any sign of the ship."

About 8 a. m., on the other side of an immense field of ice, surrounded thickly with bergs, we saw the Carpathia. We also saw the Californian, which was to the southward. The Carpathia was coming to the southward, she met us. She did not communicate anything. At 10 o'clock she turned back to the position given us, arriving there at 4:30 o'clock. We encountered so much ice, however, that we stopped until daylight. We cruised about, but could not see any sign of the ship."

Captain Moore said that when he turned his ship and rushed back among immense fields of ice, he was doing so at great risk, for he had on board 1461 passengers besides his crew.

He added that he was turned away from the scene to continue on his course the steamer Carpathia, Californian, Birma, Frankfurt and a tramp were in the vicinity.

English Noblemen Join in Criticism

LONDON, April 25.—Severe criticisms of the marine department of the Board of Trade were made by Lord Alton at the meeting of the Imperial Merchants' Service Guild.

Lord Muskerry said that the measures urged by the guild met with bitter opposition and he hoped that the great disaster to the Titanic would lead the public to insist on a full and searching inquiry by an independent committee.

Lord Muskerry hoped the advisory committee would insist on a reform of the marine department and on the appointment of a new powerful professional knowledge of the sea as its chief.

Sir Ernest Shackleton emphasized the importance of having a committee consisting of unbiased, practical men.

Washington Dodge on His Way Home

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Dr. Washington Dodge, his wife and their five-year-old son, Washington Dodge Jr., survivors of the Titanic disaster, will reach San Francisco next Monday night or Tuesday morning, according to a telegram sent by Dr. Dodge to his son, Henry Dodge. The party left New York this morning. If no stop is made in Chicago, the Dodges will reach here on Monday night.

The telegram received last night was brief, merely stating the time of departure, and the information that "everybody is well."

nothing about the message until afterward. There is this about it that I want to say, the message was not sent while the Carpathia was at sea. It was not sent until the Carpathia had passed Sandy Hook and was nearing port."

TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS. When Senator Smith reached the committee room messages from Toronto awaited him containing the information that depositions of the officers and crew of the steamer Mount Temple, which sighted the Titanic, would be taken today by Canadian authorities at St. John, N. B., and would be forwarded to Washington.

Representatives of the White Star Company said they would not have a Fourth Officer deposed before the committee tomorrow. He has been ill.

Senator Smith asked Marconi what he had to do with the wireless apparatus, and whether he selected the operators. "I am consulted as to the installation of apparatus," he said. "I do not dictate the style of apparatus but I am called on to advise and travel around the world a good bit on just this work."

"What is your official connection with the British government?"

PLANS FOR WIRELESS. "I have no official connection, except for consultation. Our company has a contract with the government of the British empire. The work will take us at least 18 years."

"Have you the executive right to equip the British wireless stations?"

"We have that right so far as the courts protect our patents in England," said Marconi. "We have had dealings with the German government and Germany's ships and stations are now controlled by our company. We work in harmony with us. We get a percentage for our patents."

Senator Smith sought to discover whether the witness had extensive contracts with any other government or powers.

"I have with Italy," said Marconi. "It is a personal contract and the company has nothing to do with it."

The witness said the contracts with the Canadian government and the Canadian independent understanding with Newfoundland.

"Unless an operator constantly has his receiver on his head he would not get a signal," asked Senator Smith.

"That is correct," replied Marconi.

$4 TO $12 A WEEK. Asked as to pay of wireless operators, Marconi said that in England the pay ranged from $4 to $12 a week with board and lodging.

"It is easy to get operators at those wages," he said, "because the sea is attractive to young men."

"The wages in America, Marconi said, "were slightly higher."

"Did you send a wireless to the operator of the Carpathia telling him to meet you and Sammis at the Strand Hotel, and to 'keep your mouth shut'?"

DENIES CHARGE. "I did not,"

"Did you hear of such a message?"

"Yes, from the newspapers."

Senator Smith asked Marconi if there was any arrangement which gave an alarm on board ship when called by wireless. He said that in an old equipment used on ships there was a bell arrangement which did not work well because it alarmed operators on all ships as well as the one called.

"There is no alarm signal on instruments now?"

"No, but it may be possible to devise one."

"Ships should have operators continuously on duty, you think?"

"Yes, if the wireless is to be of service to others, as in cases of distress."

"How far could the station at Cape Race maintain communication with a vessel?"

"Between 400 and 500 miles in the day and considerably more than 1000 at night."

"You could maintain this connection easily then with such ships as the Titanic?"

"Yes, sir."

200-MILE RADIUS. Marconi said the apparatus on the Mount Temple had only a 200-mile radius.

"Where were you on Sunday and Monday, April 14 and 15?" asked Senator Smith.

"New York."

"Did you have any communication personally or by your order with the Carpathia Sunday or Monday?"

"No direct communication. I had my office call Cape Race frequently on all these days and urged that every means be tried to get information of the disaster."

taking good care of you. Keep your mouth shut. It's fixed for you to get good money. Do your best to clear."

"I don't know anything about any of these messages. They are not in my possession. I wish to say that I told Mr. Sammis as a representative of the British company we would not prevent any of the operators making any money that they could out of their stories."

"Is that a rule of your company?"

"No, no rule."

"Was it ever done before?"

"Yes."

"When?"

"In the case of the Republic disaster, Mr. Binns, the operator, was given the right to tell his story."

"Do you wish the committee to understand that you approve that?"

"Yes; I was anxious that the operators get something."

"But," Senator Smith exclaimed, "do you mean that the details of the greatest sea horror of the world should be withheld from the world except through an exclusive story sold by one of your operators?"

"I WITHHELD NOTHING."

"No, I gave no instructions whatever, but I did say that if the operators were offered money they could take it," said Marconi.

The witness declared he felt that the experiences of operators Bide or Cottam were of such interest that they had the right to tell their stories. He insisted that it was always his understanding that the news of the disaster was not to be suppressed.

"Do you know how much Cottam got for their stories?" asked Senator Smith.

"I don't know how much Cottam got, but I understand Bide received $500 from a New York newspaper."

Marconi said that the operators were not instructed to give out news.

"I have no knowledge whatever," he added, "about these messages that were intercepted by the navy department."

"Have you talked to Sammis about it since?"

"I saw him for a few minutes a little while ago and told him you know that I did not authorize these messages."

"When did you tell him that?"

PERSONAL EXPERIENCES. "Two or three days ago. What I meant when I told the operator to take something for a story was that newspapers and reporters would be so interested in what he had to say that he would be holding back any general information they would be willing to pay him for his personal story."

Marconi said he believed the operator on the Carpathia should have used his judgment and sent an earlier story or description of the disaster. The witness was asked what he had to say about the fact that the Carpathia had not requested United States ships not to interfere with the Marconi system.

This was done, he said, after alliance had been enjoined on all coast stations not actually in communication with the Titanic or the Carpathia.

"The Carpathia," he said, "your company had laid a monopoly of the news of the horror?"

"We undoubtedly would have got it first, anyway," retorted the witness. "For the operators on both the Titanic and the Carpathia were Marconi men, with Marconi methods of sending."

How to bring about an international arrangement to prevent wireless interference was discussed at length and Marconi referred to the Berlin convention which is to meet again in June.

Further, to regulate the wireless Marconi would have such government control over wave lengths and frequencies to use a certain wave length. When all available wave lengths in a given area were exhausted, he would have the government refuse to license more stations.

Before leaving the stand Marconi said he was utterly opposed to the suppression of any news or the sales of any exclusive news.

Olympic Tied Up by Firemen's Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 25.—There is no chance of the White Star liner Olympic departing on her voyage to New York before tomorrow morning. She lay off Ryde, Isle of Wight, today unable to obtain sufficient fuel, and after a strike of firemen decided to hold a meeting tonight to discuss the question whether they will join the ship or not.

Freight Steamships to Carry Wireless

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Southern Pacific steamship company has arranged to equip its entire fleet of freight ships with wireless telegraphy. The passenger ships of this line, on which wireless has been installed for several years, will be re-equipped. The most modern apparatus will be used on all the ships.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain left Washington today for San Francisco, from whence he will sail for New Zealand.

longitude 48 37 west, says the wireless. The following dispatch was received today by the White Star Line Company, through the Cape Race station:

Drifting in dense fog since noon yesterday. Total picked up, 265. We brought aboard all embalming fluid to be had in Halifax, enough for seventy. With a week's fine weather I think we would pretty well clean up relics of the disaster. It is my opinion that the majority never will come to the surface."

KILLED BY PRESSURE. Another wireless message from the Mackay-Bennett received today, states:

"Bodies are in latitude 41.35 north, longitude 48 47 west, extending many miles east and west. Mail ships should give this a wide berth. Medical opinion is death was instantaneous in all cases, owing to pressure when bodies drawn down in vortex."

The fact that the Mackay-Bennett has been able to communicate by wireless with the Cape Race station shows that his laying of a course toward Halifax as she was without the zone of the Cape Race station for several days and was only able to get in touch with the land through other steamers relaying her messages.

LIFEBOAT AIDS DROWNING MEN

Several Women Grow Hysterical and Object to Going to Rescue.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—The lifeboat in which Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. C. M. Hays and Mrs. Walter M. Clark were rescued from the Titanic, was one boat at least that in turn rescued men from the water after the Titanic went down, according to Mrs. Clark who arrived home yesterday.

Her young husband, who was the only son of J. Ross Clark, vice-president of the Salt Lake road, and a nephew of former Senator W. A. Clark, was drowned.

Although there had been no alarm when their boat left, Mrs. Clark said it was soon seen that the Titanic was sinking and when it was proposed to return to the ship she refused.

"I could easily hold fifteen more persons, some of the women grew hysterical."

"They even went so far as to impede the rescue," she said. "Mrs. Clark, among others, insisted that the boat return to the sinking ship, but as we approached her, the Titanic sank, followed almost simultaneously explosions. We rowed about the scene all night and picked up eight men from the water, two of whom subsequently died of exposure, and one lost his mind. We worked over them all night, the women taking off their coats and furs to provide warmth for the other boats."

"I am sure that we saw three or four fishing smacks in the vicinity. We knew they were not other lifeboats, as lights could be seen high above as if on masts."

Mrs. Clark said that Colonel Astor had asked permission to accompany his wife but was refused. He made no protest and retired, joining Clark and Major Butt. All of them then aided in saving the other boats.

Mrs. Clark had only praise for the officers and crew of the Titanic and the Carpathia as well as the men passengers on the former.

Life Boats Scarce in the U. S. Navy

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Vessels of the United States navy carry only enough boats to accommodate about three-fifths of the members of the crew. As the ships seldom go to sea alone, however, the navy department deems that there is no probability of a serious accident to one of them without help near at hand, and, therefore, does not consider it necessary to provide boats to take off all on board at one time. This decision was reached after a consultation by a number of bureau heads, held as a result of the Titanic disaster.

The battleship Delaware has a crew of 945 officers and men and her boats would accommodate only 545.

CONTRACTOR INJURED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Richard Rountree, an architect, was thrown from a cart at Haight and Fulton streets this morning and received a severe wound of the scalp and other injuries, which rendered him unconscious.

PRESIDENT TAFT FLAYS ROOSEVELT

Arrests Colonel for Shifting Policies to Suit the Occasion.

Judges and the recall of decisions, his willingness to disregard "the wise custom" that forbids a third term, whether consecrating or not; his appeal to "class hatred" and "prejudice" and his "absolute failure" to put forth any concrete proposals for true reform and true progress, Taft said.

He combined to make him believe that the American people did not choose Roosevelt again.

Taft began his speech by declaring he spoke plainly only because he believed it time for him to do so.

He brought in Colonel Roosevelt's name only because events had forced him to do so.

WORKED FOR TAFT. "In 1908 Theodore Roosevelt recommended to the people of the United States that I, then the secretary of war, be nominated by the Republican party and be elected. He labored hard and long to bring me about and he succeeded. I felt the deepest gratitude to him."

"Neither in thought nor in word or action have I been disloyal to the trust that he placed in me. When the time came for this campaign to begin I let the people know that I would like to have my administration approved by their giving me another term."

"At that time Theodore Roosevelt said he was not a candidate and that it would be a calamity if he was nominated. Since then he has changed his mind."

So far as he personally was concerned, the President said he would never have attacked Colonel Roosevelt nor had a quarrel with him.

"So far," he said, "as personal feeling is concerned, I would never have his charges. But I cannot act for myself. I represent a cause. I represent an element of the Republican party that believes in constitutional government and preservation of the Union."

"By mis-statements throughout the country Roosevelt has led many people to believe charges made against me and my administration."

Laborer Crushed By Steam Roller

The heavy machine in some way got beyond his control and in trying to stop it he fell and it passed over him. It is feared that he is internally injured besides being terribly crushed.

PROVIDENCE HOSPITAL
COURSE COMPLETED

Young Nurses Hear Tribute to the Memory of Florence Nightingale.

In the name of the sisterhood of Providence hospital, Mayor Frank K. Mott welcomed the patrons at the graduating exercises of the Providence Hospital Nurses' training school, held last evening in St. Francis de Sales hall, Grove and Jones streets. In a brief introductory address Mayor Mott, who officiated as chairman of the evening, complimented the management of the hospital and commended the graduates for their high character and the diplomas and medals at the close of the program. District Attorney William H. Donahue was presented as the first orator. In addressing the graduates, who were seated upon the platform in white uniforms, he urged them to use the physical and intellectual training which they had received from the sisters and the physicians.

"Do good by your training," said the District Attorney. "There is a great work you can do toward helping men and women lead good lives. Let them profit by your training. Do good and at the end of your service you will get your reward. You will be happier for doing so. There are many spheres in which women can administer to the needs of the community in the case of the catastrophe of the Titanic. Show a countenance that will radiate kindness and sweetness upon all with whom you come in contact. Be patient—be patient."

Dr. George Reine, a house physician of Providence hospital, was the speaker of the evening. He gave a sketch of the founding of secular institutions:

"There are now ninety hospitals, hospitals schools, orphanages and asylums in operation under the management of this glorious and magnificent order, one half of which are in Canada, and the other half in the United States, tending to the frozen regions of Northern Alberta, where Indian missions are established. There are 1300 nurses in this community at present, presided over by Superior General Mother Mary Julian, who went west at the age of 19 and labored among the Indians of St. Ignace for thirty-seven years. We must bow our heads in reverence to the members of this order, who devote their lives and energy to the healing of the sick, to the protection of the feeble, to the relieving of the incurable, to the teaching of the deaf and care of the insane, whether rich or poor, who are welcome to cross the thresholds of the holy of the institutions and we know it for we see it here in our own city every day, for the Sisters of the Providence Hospital, care for the sick, and money the same as those who are able to pay."

The more methodical and thorough training of nurses came to the fore in the Civil War and Florence Nightingale, the greatest heroine of that war, who may be justly termed the mother of trained nursing in the sense in which we know it today.

Miss Nightingale was born in Florence, England, in 1820. She was a woman of strong characteristics which later made her blessed in the eyes of many thousands of men and women. It was a slight modification of the old Anglo-Saxon Nightingale, seems in its meaning to have been prophetic of the work she was to do in the world. The meaning of the word is "a singer of the night." To many her work was a song of peace and joy and comfort. It was a song filled with human interest; a song that told of the suffering and the pain that some one was interested in; that some one was giving of her best that they might recover and again be happy.

During the ceremonies, violin solos were given by Miss Martha Woods; vocal selections by Miss Katherine Sullivan, accompanied by Miss Alice Bailey. An orchestra furnished instrumental music. The diplomas were presented by Rev. Father P. J. Keane of St. Francis de Sales church and the medals were given by Dr. O. D. Hamlin, Dr. J. R. Milton and Dr. George Reine. The representatives of the class of 1912 are:

Gavyna L. Madrid, Visalia, Cal.; Margaret Veronica, Clark, Comales, Cal.; Mary A. O'Connell, Berkeley, Cal.; Julia Marie Gregory, Sacramento, Cal.; Josephine Mary Ryan, Ireland; Agnes G. The ushers were: Dr. C. A. De Puy, Dr. G. E. Walton, Dr. F. L. Herrick and Dr. E. M. Lundquist.

COL. ROOSEVELT WILL NOT BE IN CALIFORNIA

Writes Governor Johnson He Does Not Need This State; Would Like It in Line

California will have to exist as best it may without Theodore Roosevelt. The former President is having too much trouble nearer home to warrant him coming out here to patch political fences.

The news was conveyed to Governor Johnson in a long letter from the colonel, who sets out his views at length, coming out flat-footed for the initiative referendum, direct primaries and just a hint about the recall. The telegram in full follows:

Governor Hiram W. Johnson,
Sacramento, Cal.

Unfortunately, I fear that it will be physically impossible for me to come to California, and therefore I desire to take this method of making my appeal to the Republicans of California.

My appeal is not merely to the aggressive Republicans, not merely to the conservatives as a whole, for in this contest I hold that we have a right to the support of all good citizens, no matter what their previous party affiliations, provided only that they believe in the fundamental principles of Americanism and of popular government. We stand for the real, not the nominal rule of the people. We believe that they should really, not merely nominally, control their own government, and therefore the instruments by which they govern, and that they should be able to exercise this control efficiently. Therefore, we hold that the laws should be such as to enable the people to initiate legislation for themselves if after due effort it proves impossible to get such legislation by the regular legislative bodies, and that they should also possess the right of insulating upon a referendum to themselves of proposed laws when they so desire.

PUBLIC SERVANTS.

We hold that it should be made possible to hold the public servants of the people promptly accountable to the people if they do wrong. Personally, I believe that the right of initiative and referendum should be exercised by the people not only as regards law in the interest of justice which the legislature declines to pass, but also in regard to laws, laws passed in the exercise of the police power or general welfare power by the legislature, which when passed the courts of the state declare to be unconstitutional. Where the courts of a state, in such cases, provide for the law prohibiting over crowding tenement houses, or a law limiting the hours of labor for women in factories, declare that the constitution which the people made in order to secure justice is to be construed so as to forbid the exercise of the police power, I believe that the people themselves should be given the power, after due deliberation, to deliver their own verdict and final judgment which they themselves made, shall be construed to mean:

POPULAR VOTE.

We believe in the election of senators by popular vote and in direct primaries for the nomination of all elective officers, from the president down. Moreover, what is still more important, we believe that the rule of the people should be carried on in a spirit of the broadest and kindest justice to every man and every woman within the borders of the nation. It must be our resolute purpose to do away with privilege and to secure, so far as by law it is possible to secure it, equality of opportunity to all, so that this republic shall become and remain an industrial no less than a political democracy. We are against the boss in politics, not only for reasons of abstract right, but because in actual practice the boss has always proved to be the ally of privilege and of the special interests, as opposed to the people. We are not, however, not as that we are really fighting the battle of their children and their children's children when we strive to make this a land where justice shall be done and fair play shown those who are the least fortunate in the crush of our modern industrial life. For most surely this country will not be a good one for any one to live in unless we resolutely set ourselves to the task of making it a good place for every one to live in.

In closing, I wish to say a word to our young progressives who are not supporting us in this fight. I entered into the contest with reluctance and only when I was assured by leading progressives from all parts of the country that beyond a doubt there was not the slightest hope of nominating any progressive except myself; when, for instance, this had become so clear to the progressive governors that practically all of them, with the exception of those who had candidates in their own states, had united in urging me to run because my candidacy offered absolutely the only alternative to the overwhelming triumph of the reactionaries. Events have shown that they were right. Either I will be nominated or else a standstill candidate will be nominated. To divert the votes from me can accomplish nothing what ever except to give a certain amount of aid and comfort to the reactionaries.

WANTS THIS STATE.

I believe that we can win without California, but I should be sorry indeed to not see California stand in the forefront of this movement. We have looked to California for a great victory in this fight, and now that a great victory is in sight, we earnestly hope that she will again stand in the forefront of the battle. We stand for the same principles everywhere. Oregon has declared for us as Maine has declared for us, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Oklahoma are for us, just as Kansas and Nebraska are for us.

We earnestly hope that California will stand where she belongs—in the front of the nation-wide column that marches under our banner, under the banner of those who stand for the rights of the people to rule, and for their duty so as to rule as to bring nearer the day when social and industrial justice shall obtain in every part of this mighty republic.

ACCUSED YOUTH CLEARED BY JURY

Julius Long Exonerated of All Blame in Connection With Williams Murder.

Straightforward recital by Julius Long, a 15-year-old boy, before the coroner's jury, over the body of Special Policeman C. A. Williams, who was murdered by an unidentified man last Sunday, led to the exoneration of young Long from all blame in connection with the shooting of the policeman. The boy had met the murderer at the motorhome and walked with him back toward Oakland. Young Long had never seen the man before, and when his companion whipped out a revolver and shot the policeman, who accosted them, the boy fled from the scene.

On the basis of the testimony given by young Long, the coroner's jury brought in a formal verdict that Policeman Williams had come to his death as a result of a bullet wound, which had penetrated the brain, inflicted by an unidentified man, with murderous intent.

The bay cities are being scoured by the police in an effort to locate the murderer of Williams, and every effort is being made to find some trace of the man who fired at Special Policeman Murphy in East Oakland early yesterday morning. The police have impounded a car at the United States post office in an effort to trace the organized thugs through the United States mails, as several anonymous letters threatening members of the Oakland police department have been received.

en men strong in body, active in mind
ask for!

Which makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment. Get what you seek for!

The Consequences of Heedlessness.

It seems as if neglect and recklessness conspired to defeat all the precautions and vast outlay of money made to insure the safety of the Titanic. The precautionary measures usually adopted to insure the safety of a passenger ship at sea were merely perfunctory. The ship's officers were apprised that they were in the immediate vicinity of icebergs, yet they continued to speed up the ship until she was running at the rate of twenty-one and one-half knots when she struck the iceberg.

On April 14, the very day on which the collision occurred, the wireless operator of the Titanic received and transmitted to the Government Hydrographic Office at Washington, D. C., the following message from the Hamburg-American liner Amerika:

"Amerika passed two large icebergs in latitude 41.27 north, 50.8 west, April 14."

A few hours later the Titanic struck an iceberg in latitude 41.16, longitude 50.14. In all probability she collided with one of the ice floes that the Amerika sighted. She was in almost identically the same spot that the Amerika reported the berg to be, yet no extra precautions were taken, the speed of the ship was not slackened—in fact, no heed at all appears to have been taken of the danger.

One of the lookouts on the watch relieved at 10:30 states that he reported to the officer on the bridge seeing ice, but no attention was paid to the warning and some minutes before the collision occurred a second lookout reported to Second Officer Murdoch, who was on the bridge, that he had sighted an iceberg ahead. The warning appears to have excited no apprehension in the officer's mind, nor was anything done apparently to avoid the impending collision. Evidently Murdoch thought the Titanic was capable of running down any ice that might be encountered.

The crew had never been put through a boat drill. No attempt had been made to show the working order of the safety appliances or the skill of the crew in handling them. The Titanic carried davits for sixty boats. She had only sixteen. Lifeboats and space for life-saving equipment on the decks had been sacrificed in order that the steamship company might compete for the patronage of wealthy travelers who demanded the luxuries of palatial hotels and millionaires' country homes during the Atlantic passage. Promenades, observation parlors, gymnasiums, tennis courts, dance halls, gorgeous suites of rooms, fit to house a royal court crowded the lifeboats off the deck. In other words, safety was sacrificed to luxury.

Ten million dollars was spent in building a ship perfect in every detail and the lookouts were left unsupplied with binoculars! But even had they been supplied with marine glasses, apparently the officers of the ship would not have paid heed to warnings. They knew they were in the immediate vicinity of icebergs and were notified that there was ice ahead, but there was no slackening of speed, no extra precautions—nothing only to drive ahead regardless of consequences.

The Californian of the Cunard line was lying within twenty miles of the Titanic when she went down. The Californian had stopped her engines because her captain was afraid to steam ahead in the ice. He laid to until morning because of the peril which the Titanic officers ignored. Captain Lord of the Californian realized the peril of his ship and like a sensible man took no chances. Had the officers of the Titanic been equally solicitous about the safety of the ship and the passengers under their protection there would have been no accident.

On Thursday night previous, near the place where the Titanic went down, the steamer Niagara of the French line rammed an iceberg and came very near going to the bottom. The only reason why she did not sink was because her captain was going at a very low rate of speed. He had slowed down to a few miles an hour because of the presence of ice. He managed to reach port with two huge holes in the hull of his ship, but did not lose his passengers. That is the difference between recklessness and wisdom in navigating a ship.

Of course, the officers of the Titanic were to blame. But not altogether. The traveling public is to blame fully as much as the steamship companies and the officers they employ to navigate their ships. The public demands speed and luxury in travel. A desire to make the passage across the Atlantic in the quickest time makes them forget the necessary precautions that should be adopted to protect life. The desire to carry at sea all the accommodations that can be found on shore caused the space that should be taken up by lifeboats and life rafts to be utilized for pleasure purposes. The demands have been met by the sacrifice of a vast company of travelers. The lesson is a dreadful one, but it will probably bring about a salutary change. Ships will hereafter be manned with more experienced crews, equipped with a sufficient number of boats, and due precautions taken when perils are imminent.

And a longer and safer passage will be taken instead of the shorter and more dangerous one. All things seem to have conspired to bring about a disaster unprecedented in marine history, but it seems that no change from bad order can ever be brought about until some great calamity occurs.

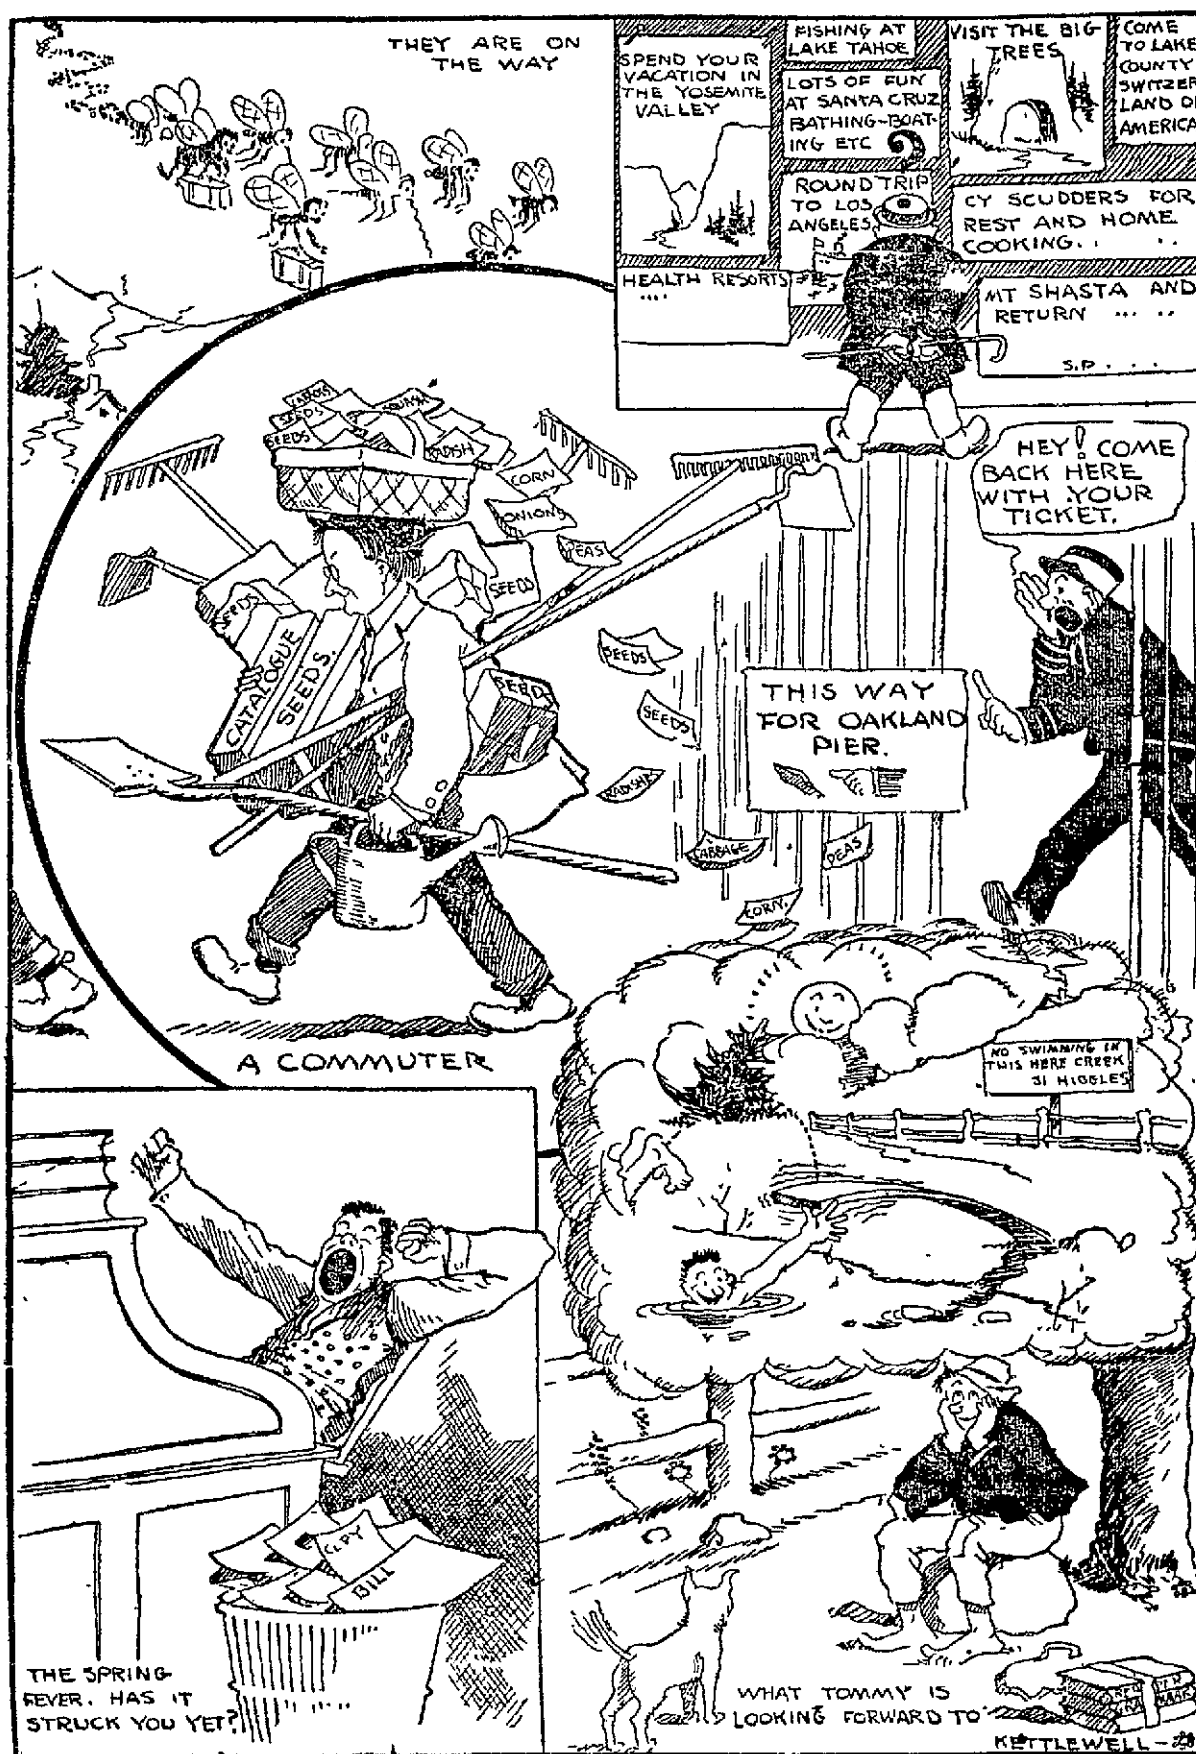

If many men would count the cost of the whisky they drink they would not be so worried about the increased cost of living. Many a man who is not a drunkard or dissolute spends regularly more for whisky and cigars than it costs to keep his family in meat and vegetables. He nonchalantly tosses fifty cents or a dollar over the bar for a round of drinks, but grumbles like sin because the daily milk bill has increased from twenty cents to two bits.

The Oakland team is playing great ball this season. They have started off in the lead, and only have to keep their lick to win the pennant with several laps. Every Oakland fan should pray for the success of the team, for the good ball the team is putting up deserves Oakland abroad. It will be something to brag about if Oakland can show that she has the best baseball team on the Pacific Coast.

A dispatch from Constantinople says the Young Turks have achieved an overwhelming victory in the Turkish elections. As the Young Turks are now in control of the government it is not surprising that they should have carried the elections. Opposition was treated as rebellion against the government, and a rebel got short shrift in Turkey.

The Colonel was slugged over the ropes in New Hampshire and Connecticut. He will get a repetition of the dose when it is Massachusetts' turn to vote. New Jersey, Maryland and Ohio will finish the business.

S-P-R-I-N-G

The Chameleon of Politics.

It has been said that to change her mind is a woman's privilege, but in these days it is generally agreed that man also possesses that privilege and should exercise it. Thus Theodore Roosevelt has made a human chameleon of himself—honestly, enough, perhaps, but the change has been sudden and suspicious. An excellent characterization of him was made recently in a speech by William E. Smythe at Los Angeles. Mr. Smythe generously praised the Colonel for his accomplishments and continued:

"Mr. Roosevelt is running as a progressive candidate. Is he entitled to stand as the one great leader of the progressive cause in the sense in which that cause is understood in California? It is only a few years since he said his opinion of the Oklahoma constitution was unfit for publication because it contained the un-American device, the initiative and referendum. He sent Secretary Taft to Oklahoma to defeat the constitution, and barely stopped short of killing it with a veto. Recently he has declared in favor of the initiative and referendum. We must give him credit for that, but is it not entirely just to remark in this connection that almost everybody believes in it now?"

"How about recall of judges? You have not forgotten, for it happened only about a year ago, that he made a speech in Arizona against the recall on one day, then crossed the Colorado river and made a speech in California in favor of the recall the next day. Is it too much to ask that the stern and rock-bound progressive which these serious times demand should be progressive two days running, and on both sides of the Colorado river?"

But why should Mr. Smythe be surprised at the Colonel's sudden change of front on the initiative and referendum and the recall? Was that any more sudden or complete than his change of position regarding the third term? In November, 1904, he announced in terms as specific and positive as the language permits that he would not again be a candidate, and twice since he reiterated the announcement. He also stated that the limitation of Presidential incumbency to two terms was "a wise custom." Thus in bowing to the custom he acknowledged its wisdom and propriety.

Nevertheless he is again a candidate in violation of the voluntary pledge he gave the American people, and attacks President Taft, whom he selected to succeed him, for remaining true to the principles the Colonel professed eighteen months ago.

Yet the Colonel has not changed. He merely wants to be President again, and is ready to advocate any fad or resort to any expedient that promises to win him popularity.

Less than two years ago he controlled the New York Republican convention and nominated for Governor, Mr. Stimson, now Secretary of War in President Taft's cabinet. The platform put forth under his supervision lauded President Taft and praised his administration. Now he denounces Taft and his administration and repudiates the man he selected for Governor of New York in 1910. His unbridled ambition has led him to change sides, to abandon his former professions and affiliations and denounce as treasonable the views he entertained less than two years ago.

LOSS OF THE TITANIC

(A Tribute to the Brave.)

The big ship sailed over the mighty deep, Ploughing her way with ponderous sweep, Casting the spray on every side, Defying the sea with exalted pride.

No nobler ship ever sailed the sea, Manned by a gallant ship's company With Captain Smith in supreme command Bound for the shores of a great free land.

Four days out on her maiden trip, All took a pride in the noble ship, Whose speed increased the move each day.

No wonder the hearts of all were gay, Night has cast her mantle o'er The sea that laves Newfoundland's shore, When suddenly on the still night air A cry rings out: A berg, beware!

Rising out of the tranquil sea, An iceberg looms quite suddenly, Then the cruel, relentless force Pierces the Titanic's side with no remorse.

The built to stand 'gainst a heavy shock, She could not brave that icy rock, Which detached from out its northern head Gathers momentum when by ocean led.

The wireless message quickly sent, For any passing vessel meant, Is received by Carpathia miles away; Her course is changed without delay.

Meanwhile the boats are quickly lowered To save the women and children on board, Not a man disputes their claim— Rich and poor are all the same.

Great God! what an awful thing to do Parted from those we love at sea, With scarcely time to say good bye, We to live and they to die.

The last boat leaves the vessel's side, Conveying the earthly hope and pride Of many a gallant heart that night The darkness hiding them from sight.

The tomorrow's sun breaks o'er the sea No sign denotes where the ship has been; Deep in the ocean's cold embrace, The heroes found a burial place.

The ages shall roll and the bell shall toll For many a noble passing soul, But the memory of those heroes shall live on.

For their gallantry shown on this ship at sea

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Gus Williams was the guest of the Oakland lodge of Elks at a German dinner given at the club rooms after the theater. Over $8000 was received in the city treasurer's office in taxes. The Citizens' Municipal League through its president, Giles M. Gray, has petitioned the city council for a comprehensive plan for the sewerage of the city. They suggest the consideration and investigation of the plans and reports sent in by Rudolph Herring a short time ago, and also suggest that more street springing wagons be put into commission. A new stone station is to be erected on the Potter tract, near Sixteenth street, according to the announcement made at the railroad office. It will be for local ferry traffic to the mole. The commissioners appointed to report on the opening of Haight avenue rendered their findings to the city council. The opening of the street will be a large undertaking, and the expense will be considerable. It is under consideration by the council, and it is expected that protests will be made against it. Charles B. Tenny and Bertha Du Vaughan were married at a pretty ceremony held at the Plymouth Congregational Church. Rev. Tenny, father of the bridegroom, read the marriage service.

MONEY KEPT HERE BY POSTAL BANKS

The Expansion of Money Order Service Lessons Coin Sent Abroad.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Substantial falling off in the amount of money sent abroad, attributable, it is claimed, to the establishment of the postal savings system in this country and great expansion of the money order service, are shown by the quarterly financial statement submitted to the treasury and postoffice departments of the postal service for the quarter ending December 31 last amounting to $65,801,410.22, an increase of 2.09 per cent over the same period of the preceding year. Expenditures were $62,255,762.82, representing an increase of 8.31 per cent.

Emphasizing the falling off of money sent abroad, the report says that during the last ten years there had been an increase in value of money orders payable in foreign countries of approximately 100 per cent. During the first six months of the fiscal year the decrease was $7,658,634.74 as compared with an increase of $9,318,085.28 for the same period last year.

The total value of money orders during the quarter was $189,772,252.25. Approximately 30 per cent of the orders were paid in Chicago and New York, the transaction in these offices indicating the enormous growth of the mail order business. Chicago paid $30,162,355.70 in money orders against $3,062,701.68 in orders issued. New York's payments amounted to $18,931,637.68 with issues totalling $3,693,975.79.

NEW MOTOR WAGON COMES TO THE COAST

Kiel and Evans Take Western Agency for Commerce Delivery Car.

UNIQUE DEVICES ADVERTISING POLARINE OIL

Contest Board Accepts Records of Warren Non-Motor Stop Car.

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)
The demand of the department store manager, the middle-class grocer and mercantile interests in general for a light delivery wagon at low price is being met with, on the coast at least, by the appearance of a number of such types of vehicles. The latest entry into this field is the Commerce motor wagon. Kiel and Evans have brought it to the Western coast and unloaded the first shipment this week.

The Commerce made its premier appearance at the Eastern shows during the month of January and February. It was while attending the Chicago exhibit in February that C. P. Kiel was first impressed with it, and this interest on his part led to a thorough investigation of its qualities. Little time was lost in closing negotiations for the Western representation.

Simplicity enters into every idea embodied in the new arrival, a fact best exemplified in the transmission, which is of the friction type. The motor is rated at 20 horsepower, the cylinders are cast in pairs. The bore is 3 1/2 x 3 3/4 inch stroke. Magneto ignition supplies the current. The cooling system is of the water pump and oiling is by the force feed splash system. A single chain from the friction wheel shaft to the rear axle forms the driving power.

The weight of the wagon is 1800 pounds and its carrying capacity is rated at 1000 pounds.

Several different body types are being shown.

Some time ago the Standard Oil Company, financiers of the show of the popular automobile, lubricants placed on display in the office window of Studebaker Bros a miniature motordrome speedway, showing two cars whirling around it at a supposed high rate of speed. The little track has since that time been the subject of considerable talk.

The work is the result of an inventive genius employed in the office of the Standard Oil Company.

With the Standard Oil Company in the position of importance. Prior to the races at the motordrome the speedway was displayed to advantage on Broadway, in a prominent location, to advertise the meat feature of educational interest to motorists was set up in the show-window of Mohr Bros. in San Francisco. It depicts an oil well and its accessories in operation and is most interesting to view.

The designer of the small, sensitive track is also responsible for the construction of the well. Polarine is advertised by the two in a unique manner.

BOARD ACCEPTS RECORDS. NEW YORK, April 25.—The 16-mile, 20-mile and 25-mile mobile records made on a one-mile circular dirt track at San Jose, Cal., April 14, by Louis Disbrow, were fully accepted and allowed by the contest committee of the American Automobile Association today.

The report of a nonstop motor test by an Oakland, Cal., contestant also was officially accepted and allowed. The car in this test was operated over the streets of Oakland and the country roads adjacent thereto.

The motor was kept running continuously from 7:30 a. m. February 4, 1912, to 8:23 p. m. March 9, 1912, during which time the car covered 12,404.3 miles, consuming 74.6 gallons of gasoline, 48.26 gallons of oil and 41 gallons of water.

The above dispatch is of particular interest to dealers here at this time. Disbrow is remembered for his racing at the Shriners' meet of last Saturday and Sunday, in which he was a star performer.

The non-stop record referred to was made by the Warren car in a contest conducted on a basis of fairness which reflects great credit on the men who managed the affair—Messrs. Knauss, Vesper and Dandy.

REO IN SANTA MONICA. A Reo-the-Fifth will be in the big road race at Santa Monica on May 4. It will not be the car that won the race at Fresno, although the Reo agent down south tried to get it. Everyone was willing but the race officials, for the Fresno race was not sanctioned by the American Automobile Association. The car was locally owned and the Reo representative did not control it.

F. H. Dalley, the local agent for Reo cars, said, in speaking of the ruling, that while he would like to have seen the Fresno car repeat its recent victory, it did not matter much, for all the Reo cars are alike, and as the Fresno car was a thoroughly stock car, any other will do just as fine work.

FEDERAL PERFORMS FEAT. A demonstration of the ability of the motor truck took place this week, which must make the business man who is considering installing what has become the most accepted of up-to-date drayage, stop and think. A Federal one and a half-ton truck was sent up the California-street hill from Kearny street to the Fairmont Hotel with a two-ton load. It was not a struggle for the truck. Its performance even astonished those who were handling the vehicle. This is claimed to be a record, for this is the first time a truck of this capacity has carried such a heavy load up the grade.

STROKE MOTOR GREAT PULLER. "With outriggers the same amount of force will drive a boat much farther than with the ordinary car lock construction. Outriggers enable you to take a longer stroke, giving greater pulling power," said C. A. Penfield of the Pioneer Automobile Company, the local Chalmers agents. The boat with outriggers will cover the same distance in a shorter time because you are not obliged to take so many strokes. The Chalmers has a long-stroke motor, because it develops its full power at slow engine speed. Any motor will develop its full power at 1800 or 1400 revolutions per minute, but a long-stroke motor will give the power when turning at much slower speed.

NEW HARLEY DAVIDSONS HERE. George Faulkner unloaded his first big allotment of Harley Davidson twin type of motorcycles yesterday, and this morning his mechanics are busy tuning up a number of them for the waiting customers. The refinements and changes in the latest model of this machine have been enumerated. They are striking enough to warrant an early heavy spring demand, which Faulkner, for the first time in months, will be in a position to care for.

START PLANS FOR CHERRY CARNIVAL

Committees to Interview San Leandro Business Men Next Week.

SAN LEANDRO, April 25.—The first step in the campaign for a cherry carnival here sometime in June will be the appointment of a finance committee to set about securing the necessary subscriptions. Already numbers of citizens and business men have indicated their willingness to materially help the scheme, which is backed by the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce.

Tentative plans for the festival were discussed at a meeting of the general committee yesterday, which appointed an executive committee as follows: Chairman, W. B. Eber; William Muntz, J. H. Bigler, W. J. Gannon, Mayor J. J. Gill. The carnival will be held principally in Estudilla avenue, running from Hayward avenue to the Pothill boulevard. The thoroughfare is flanked by shade-trees on either side, which meet overhead, forming an arch, thus making a natural festival site. The avenue is considered one of the most attractive driveways in California. Music, open-air dancing merry-go-rounds and other forms of amusement will be features of the affair.

Other subcommittees will be appointed by Chairman Eber within the next few days to further the progress of the plans. Preparations will be made to entertain thousands of people.

MRS. THORNHILL CARMANY DIES AT SANATORIUM

It was thought that she was improving and her friends were hopeful of her ultimate recovery. Besides her husband she leaves two small children to mourn her loss.

TALKS POLITICS AND DOMESTICITY

Mrs. La Follette Stands on Table to Address Crowd in St. Francis Hotel.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Standing on a table, in lavender gown and with a bunch of California poppies at her feet, the comrade, partner and wife of Senator La Follette talked to the San Francisco Center of the California Civic League yesterday afternoon in the ball room of the St. Francis Hotel. Mrs. La Follette's disarming smile necessitated her climbing to the table.

"All Government affairs are really home problems," she said. "The tariff and the trusts, when they affect the cost of living, are household problems. Schools, parks and good roads are no more political questions when discussed in legislative bodies than when urged in women's clubs. When women understand that the price of food and clothes is as much controlled by governmental conditions as are electric light and freight rates they will take a keener interest in politics. I look to see the home economics standardize food and clothes."

And this was one of the periods where Mrs. La Follette removed her eyeglasses and remarked: "That is important." Some jury lawyers have that trick, but not the charm. Mrs. La Follette is a graduate of the Wisconsin Law School.

On the subject of standardizing food she declared: "Simple joys are the most lasting."

INDIAN JOAN OF ARC WEDS WEALTHY MAN

FON DU LAC, Wis., April 25.—Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage at Stephens Point, Wis., of Laura Nannie Cornelius, the last princess of the Onondia Indians, to Orin J. Kellogg, a wealthy citizen of Seymour.

Mrs. Kellogg is a graduate of Graceland Hall Wesleyan College, and of Leland Stanford University. She became known as the Indian Joan of Arc. She danced in the courts of Europe, obtained funds to aid the red men to a higher civilization.

BOAR MANGLES FARMER. GRASS VALLEY, April 25.—John de Malville, a farmer, was attacked by an infuriated boar yesterday and seriously injured. He was brought to a hospital in this city. De Malville escaped only by urging his dog to attack the beast. He was badly out by the animal's tusks.

You might be better satisfied

Perhaps your tire experience has been satisfactory—or passably so. We hope it has been. But it may be that tires made as only United States Tires are made—by co-operative skill—would prove even more satisfactory. Possibly far more satisfactory.

The possibility is certainly worth considering—especially when thousands of motorists who are today using exclusively, formerly thought they were "pretty well satisfied" with other tires.

United States Tires

In buying one or two of these tires as a "trial," you are in reality giving four organizations, working as a unit, an opportunity to show you why tires made as only United States Tires are made are entitled to sell as only United States Tires sell.

And keep this in mind: The first cost is the same as though you continued to use tires made in the ordinary way. You are not asked to "take a chance"—not even in the matter of price.

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

WEDDING of social importance will be that of Miss Helen Bancroft who weds Leon Gove this evening at what is said to be one of the most picturesque and artistically appointed weddings of the season, attended by 150 representative folk.

The large, hospitable home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bancroft on Webster street, will be decorated in quantities of white wisteria and festoons of pink duchess roses, together with gold baskets of roses.

Around a bower of white wisteria the marriage service will be read by Rev. Earl Wilbur, president of the Unitarian Theological Seminary in Berkeley.

The bridegroom will be of heavy ivory satin made with a yoke of duchess and Rose point lace, while pearl passementerie will be used in a bolero effect in the trimming. The dress will have the court train and from a cirelet of orange blossoms, will fall the long, filmy wedding veil to the hem of the gown. A shower bouquet of white tulips and lilies of the valley will complete a lovely costume.

Miss Evelyn Bancroft will be her sister's maid of honor, gowned in white crepe de chene, embroidered in little rosettes in dresden shades, while she will carry an armful of Maryland roses. Two little cousins will be in attendance. Frances Ann Reid will carry a golden basket of Cecil Dreuer roses while Gwendolyn Bancroft will carry a white satin cushion on which will repose the ring.

An elaborate supper will be served after the reception, the tables being decked in small baskets overflowing with pink roses and white garlands of the same flower and white bride wreaths will complete the decorative effect. The engagement was announced at a large reception given a fortnight ago and the many friends of the bride are regretting that the short interval has not allowed for any complimentary affairs; however, as the home of the young couple is to be in this city, the entertainments planned, will be given later.

The romance is the outcome of a college friendship, both having attended the University of California and being prominent in sorority and other college activities.

CONVALESCING IN HEALTH. Miss Dorothy Woodward, who has been ill in a hospital, is recovering her health and her friends are rejoicing over her convalescence. She will be able to return to her Berkeley home in a few days.

TO GIVE RECEPTION. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Albert Hicks will give a large reception on the evening of May 2, and friends from both sides of the bay have been bidden.

MUSICAL AND TEA. Miss Edith Gore Kelly, fiancée of John Woodruff, gave a musical and tea by Mrs. Christine Rose.

VISITING HERE. Mrs. Guy Young of Napa and Mrs. F. Hughes of Kansas City are visiting Mrs. F. R. Chadwick of this city.

COMPLIMENTARY RECEPTION. Mrs. W. H. Gibbons has sent out invitations for the afternoon of May 1, asking her guests in honor of Miss Phoebe Blaney whose engagement to Robert Ward Harnden was recently announced.

The wedding of the couple will take place in June.

CHILD-TILLINGHAST WEDDING. The Childs-Tillinghast wedding last night was a beautiful affair where the gowns and decorations were unusually lovely.

The Piedmont chapel was a bower of pink blossoms, pink stocks, tulips and enchantress carnations.

Mrs. William Ede attended the bride as maid of honor, and Miss Edith Sturdevant was bridesmaid.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of real Valenciennes lace draped over white silk—an old family heirloom—and wore a cluster of orange blossoms in her hair.

A shower of lilies of the valley completed her bridal costume.

Mrs. Ede wore an orchid colored chiffon, over silk of the same shade, and Miss Sturdevant's gown was of pink and white chiffon.

The couple plan to live in Piedmont upon their return from their honeymoon.

DUODEN CLUB DANCE. Three hundred invitations have been sent out by the Duodene Club for a dance on Friday evening, May 10.

WEDDING TAKES PLACE.

Half a hundred friends gathered at the Towle home in Webster street last night, for the marriage of Miss Sadie Towle and Walter Bundschu.

Rev. Mr. Castor read the marriage service. Pink and white blossoms combined with greenery and dainty tulle, furnished a pretty setting for the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Odette Towle, and Rudolph Bundschu acted as best man for his brother.

The bride wore the conventional wedding gown of white satin with veil and orange blossoms, and her sister was attired in pink chiffon. Two small nieces as flower maidens—Dorothy Stephens and Allen Towle—carried baskets of roses. The bride is a Miss College girl, and has for several years lived with her brother in Berkeley. The couple will reside in Sonoma county, where Bundschu is a prosperous rancher.

WEDDING IN BERKELEY.

Miss Marion Du Bois became Mrs. Berkeley S. Cunningham yesterday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Snook of Berkeley. Rev. W. M. Martin, of the First Methodist Church, officiated.

The bride wore a black and white tailored suit and a picture hat, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Roses in profusion festooned the reception room, effectively combined with satin ribbon, lavender and white being the color scheme.

The couple, after the wedding upper and reception, left for the Grand Canyon of Colorado to spend their honeymoon. They will establish their home in Wonder, Nevada, where Cunningham has extensive mining interests.

RECEPTION TODAY.

Two smart receptions took place today when Mrs. Murray Johnson entertained for her niece, Ethel Johnson. Mrs. Kenneth Hamilton was hostess for Miss Carmen Sutton.

Nearly 200 fashionably gowned women called at the Murray home in Piedmont, which was decorated effectively in pink

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

ARMY OF JOYS ON HAND TO GREET MISS CROCKER

The Fiancee of M. D. Whitman Arrives Home and is Welcomed by Friends.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Miss Jennie A. Crocker, California's wealthiest bachelor girl, who finished the short set with the most interesting piece of news of the season a week ago Sunday by announcing that she was engaged to marry Malcolm D. Whitman of Brooklyn, Mass., arrived yesterday from New York.

Miss Crocker was accompanied by Mrs. William M. Newhall and Mrs. Mountford Wilson, who made the transcontinental trip with her in her private car.

While in New York, where Miss Crocker announced her engagement, she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, her kinsfolk. The Misses Harper and Janet Alexander accompanied her from Hillsborough when she started for New York a week before Easter, and laughingly explained that she was going east to buy a bonnet.

Miss Crocker did not stop off at San Francisco, but had her car switched off at the tracks at Burlingame, where she was met by her brother, Charles Templeton Crocker, and Mrs. Crocker. The party drove in a motor car to Miss Crocker's home in Hillsborough.

Charles Templeton Crocker announced for his sister that the marriage would take place on the coast, but that no date had yet been set.

Miss Crocker herself was no more definite.

"When I am rested up from my trip I will let my friends know all about my plans," she explained good-naturedly last night. "There is plenty of time."

Miss Crocker has been showered with gifts and congratulations since her arrival, and her friends intend to make the interval before her wedding gay with social functions.

Whether Miss Crocker will go to Europe for her trousseau is a matter of much interest to her friends, who have been curious to know her plans ever since she took them by surprise by announcing her engagement to Whitman.

The lucky bridegroom is an attorney of considerable means. He is a Harvard graduate and was for years a national tennis champion, appearing in all the big tournaments. In April, 1907, he married Miss Panetta McCook of New York, who died a year later when a son was born. Miss Crocker was bridesmaid at her wedding.

Her sister, Mrs. Whitlaw Reid, wife of the United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and as the inheritor of a fortune of $10,000,000, Miss Crocker, who is a daughter of the late Charles F. Crocker, has an extensive acquaintance in this country and abroad. Her social connections started on the peninsula and extended to New York, Newport, London and Paris.

Wants Money Back

NEW YORK, April 25.—Emma Carus, the actress, has been badly disappointed in Wall-street speculation. She filed a suit in the Supreme Court yesterday against her brokers, W. L. Stevens & Co., to recover $234,614, which she alleges is due her on a transaction in United States Steel.

Miss Carus declares that she entered into an agreement with the brokerage firm in October, 1911, whereby they bought 10 shares of Steel stock, to hold on margin subject to her order. November 3, a sister charged her with the stock to their own use without consulting her.

Within a reasonable time afterward, Miss Carus said, the market value of the stock was $687,40, against which the defendants had a claim of $484,38. Miss Carus claims she is entitled to the difference, with interest.

Modern Cinderella

SAN JOSE, April 25.—Elizabeth Freidman, a fifteen-year-old orphan of a good family, was taken yesterday by Probation Officer J. L. Montgomery and his assistants, Mrs. I. C. Marrison and Mrs. J. A. McCarthy, from the home of Charles Heiland of East San Jose. The action brought out the story of drudgery that has the real Cinderella story's plot "backed off the boards."

"This Little Cinderella, clad in the cheapest and most unshapely garments, worked in the hay fields side by side with the men, and was according to the story which came out. Later she died in on a hay press. Her duties also included milking cows, mending and cooking. Frequently during the haying season she was forced to help prepare the breakfast which began the day's work for the 'other men.' She washed the unclean after supper, when the men had finished the day's work, and then until 10 o'clock she ironed or mended clothes. She rose to start getting breakfast and light a fire at 6 a. m.

The officers do not hope to provide her with glass slippers and a fairy chariot, but they will get her into a private home where she will enjoy life a bit more.

Gave Her Away

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 25.—The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Marie Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peterson, to Robert J. Barnett, which was performed on January 16 by the Rev. Thomas J. McCann, in the rectory of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, New Rochelle, and kept a secret, was made known a few days ago by the discovery of the bride's ring by her pet kitten.

Mrs. Peterson went to her daughter's room in the morning and found the kitten playing with plain gold droplet in which was the inscription: "R. J. B. to E. M. P. January 16, 1912."

When the young woman came home from a shopping tour Mrs. Peterson asked her about the ring. Then the bride told about the secret wedding.

Countess Returns

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Countess Cantacuzene arrived in New York from home in Russia yesterday on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. She came here to attend the funeral of her father, General Frederick Dent Grant.

PAULA

By Lillian Russell

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

A BEAUTIFUL Roman lady of wealth, whose wonderful friendship for Saint Jerome, in the latter part of the fourth century, made her historical. She is the most memorable example of the great change in the social relation of man and woman.

The pagan woman belonged to her husband or her father, rather than to herself. She was a property, to be sold from strangers, given in marriage without her consent, and guarded by female slaves. A situation that today still exists in Egypt and Turkey, but is rapidly changing in all other Oriental countries.

It was not till then that women were seen to have those qualities that compel veneration and call out the deepest sympathy whenever life is divested of its demoralizing egotism.

I select Paula to show that friendship, the noblest sentiment in woman, was not common until Christianity had greatly modified the opinions and habits of society.

Paula was a highly gifted woman, a descendant of the Scipios and the Gracchi, and was born A. D. 347, at Rome, ten years after the death of the great Constantine, who enthroned Christianity while yet the social forces of the empire were tangled in the meshes of paganism. She was married at the age of 17 to Tatianus, of the still more illustrious Julian family. She owned a whole city in Italy. It is said that she was one of the richest women of antiquity.

She was first won to Christianity by the celebrated Marcella, and hastened to enroll herself and her five daughters as pupils of the learned woman. On her conversion she gave three-quarters of her immense income to the poor.

She became a nurse to the sick and buried the dead at her own expense. She sought out distress and relieved it, wherever it was to be found. Her piety assumed such magnified proportions that she lived on bread and oil, wasted her body with fasting, slept on a mat of straw, and denied herself all the pleasures to which she had been accustomed, arising in part from a too literal interpretation of the injunctions of Christ.

It was when Rome was the field of her charities that she met and fell under the influence of Saint Jerome, at that time secretary of Pope Damasus, the most austere and learned man of Christian antiquity. He buried himself in the catacombs and lived like a monk, finally settling on Chalices near Syria for his abode. From there he wrote letters to all parts of the world. These letters and the fame of his sanctity drew from Pope Damasus a summons to return to Rome to become his counselor and secretary.

When his coarse garments Jerome maintained his equality with princes and nobles. To the poor he appeared as humble as to the rich he appeared arrogant.

To Paula he was a friend, a teacher, and an oracle. "Radiant in the innocence of conscious virtue, capable of appreciating any flights of genius, holding their riches of no account except to feed the hungry and clothe the naked, those friends lived only to repair the evils which unbridled sin inflicted on mankind."

The friendship of Paula and Saint Jerome was a moral free masonry, a refined and subtle sentiment which bound two hearts together in similar labors and experiences.

Paula and Jerome were equals in rank, culture and intellect. "The impressive earnestness which overpowers the mind, when eternal and momentous truths are the subject of discourse, binds people together with a force of sympathy which cannot be produced by the sublimity of a mountain or the beauty of a picture."

Paula and her daughters joined Jerome and a party of friends and made an extended tour of the east, previous to a final settlement in Bethlehem. The proconsul of Palestine prepared his palace for the reception, and the rulers of every great city besought the honor of a visit. But they did not tarry until they had kissed the stone which covered the remains of the Savior of the world.

They journeyed into Egypt, taking the road taken by Joseph and Mary in their flight. The whole year was consumed in travel by the illustrious party, who finally settled in Bethlehem, where Paula built a convent near the cell of Saint Jerome, who spent his last days in literary labors, waited on by Paula.

Paula died in her fifty-seventh year. A serene tranquillity marked her closing hours, and the icy hand of death neither changed the freshness of her countenance nor robbed it of its celestial beauty.

Whatever heights to which woman may rise, she must remember that it was friendship which first distinguished her from pagan women and which will ever constitute one of her most peerless charms. She is now recognized to be the equal of man in her intelligence, she may be what she chooses, actress, singer, painter, novelist, sculptor, poet or society queen sharing and competing with man the prizes given to genius and learning.

A pure and lofty friendship, such as that of Paula for Saint Jerome, is aid, encouragement, and strength to man. He cannot but be bettered by woman's sympathy and inspiration.

PEARL—You were foolish, indeed, to attempt to bleach your hair. The only thing I can suggest now is to have it dyed. However, do not attempt to do this yourself, but go to a reliable beauty shop and have it dyed by someone who does that kind of work.

ADELINE—Henna colors light hair red and gives dark hair a reddish tinge. Wash the hair thoroughly, being careful to get all of the soap out of it, for if any is allowed to remain it will interfere with the action of the dye. Partly dry the hair, then apply the following stain with a small brush or sponge: Two ounces henna leaves, steeped

In a pint of boiling water for an hour, and then allowed to get cold, should make a fairly strong stain. However, if this is not enough, the henna powder may be added and steeped with the leaves. This stain is perfectly harmless. There is nothing that will make your eyes brighter.

A. L.—Massage the cheeks with a good skin food after washing the face thoroughly at night before retiring. Use plenty of the cream and leave a portion on it over night. This will fatten the cheeks. Send me an addressed, stamped envelope and I shall be glad to forward you the recipe for the skin food and directions for facial massage.

A. N. AND F. L.—If you will both read my little note to "Dolores H." you will find the desired information about pimples and blackheads. I shall also be glad to send you the formula for the cold cream upon receipt of an addressed, stamped envelope.

DOLORES H.—Blackheads and pimples are unsightly, but they can be removed without leaving a scar. They cannot be forced back, but must be coaxed out of the pores. Before retiring cleanse the face with cold cream, then wash it with warm water. Apply a small portion of green soap, rubbing it well into the pores for about three minutes. Rinse the soap from the face with warm water, using a camel's hair complexion brush so as to remove all of the soap and as many of the blackheads as possible. Then rinse the face with cold water until it has become thoroughly cold. Dry the face carefully, then fill the skin with a good cold cream. Let this remain for half an hour, then take off any that is superfluous with a soft cloth. The amount of dirt that comes off will be incredible. Continue this treatment every night until the blackheads have disappeared. You can get the green soap at any drug store. It is a Biflow paste and comes in a jar. If you care for it, send me an addressed, stamped envelope and I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent cold cream.

HISTORIC VENETIAN TOWER IS NOW RESTORED

CAMPANILE ON RUINS OF OLD

Venice Gay With Flags When
New Tower of St. Mark
Is Dedicated.

Affair Made One of International Importance; Great Crowds Attend.

VENICE, April 25.—The inauguration of the new Campanile of St. Mark to replace that which fell ten years ago, took place this morning in brilliant weather and assumed a character of international importance. Italians and foreigners arrived by ship trains and in boats from both sides of the Adriatic.

The whole city was gay with flags and bunting, while the Piazza and the Piazzetta of St. Mark, besides the national and Venetian colors was decorated with ancient damask and tapestry of the time of the Republic.
The three palaces surrounding the Piazza of St. Mark were decorated according to their architectural lines by 50,000 electric globes for the illumination tonight.

The ringing of the hours by the bell of Saint Alipio, which for years had been silent, as the clock did not run because of the unsafe condition of the corner, produced great emotion
in all "Venetians."

BRIGHT PROCESSION.
The mayor, the aldermen and the other members of the municipality formed a great gala procession with gondolas richly hung, escorted by the historic "bissone" with which they went to meet the Duke of Genoa and his suite at the landing place of the royal palace.

A cortege was formed by the Duke of Genoa with the mayor, Count Grimaldi, descendant of the Doge of Genoa; the public ministers, Ambasciadori, aldermen, the principal authorities of the army and navy and the civil and military households of sovereignty. They left the gondolas at the landing in the Piazzetta and walked toward the campanile.

Handkerchiefs, carnations, umbrellas, all were waved until the Duke Genoa had taken his seat in a tribune at the side of the loggia of San Marco.

GREAT FLAGS FLY.
At a signal great flags at the four corners of the tower began to rise rapidly, two Italian and two Venetian.
The signal of the flags was that which flew from the battlements of St. Mark at the taking of the city of Tripoli.

L. Credaro, minister of public instruction, delivered a speech glorifying the civil work accomplished by Count Grimaldi, the Mayor of Venice, who answered expressing the satisfaction of Venice at the completion of the Campanile. They arrived in two thousand carrier pigeons fluttered to the four points of the compass, each with a little note attached to its neck to carry the tidings.
The ringing of the Campanile bells was the signal for the artillery to fire salvos while the bells of all the churches joined in greeting the resurrection of one of the city's greatest treasures.

Then at the main door of the historic Basilica, preceded by a golden cross, appeared Cardinal Cavallari, Patriarch of Venice, followed by the chapter and by all the bishops of the Venetian provinces, each wearing the most historic vestments of their churches and followed by their respective chapters.

The venerable patriarch, with his suite, went around the Campanile blessing it and reciting prayers.
When the cardinal was entering the basilica the school children again sang, this time the strong and warlike hymn of Mamel.

After this the Duke of Genoa and his suite entered St. Mark's for the religious ceremony.

FUND CLIMBS TOWARD $100,000 MARK
PROMISING START IN Y. W. C. A. CANVASS

MRS. F. F. BARBOUR, third vice-president of the Oakland Y. W. C. A.

Building Subscriptions Have Reached $86,347;
Committees at Work Obtaining Pledges

The first day of the strenuous ten-day campaign for the raising of $225,000 for building and furnishing a new three-story structure of brick and stone to take the place of the present cramped quarters of the Young Women's Christian Association in Oakland, closed with the sum of $86,347 pledged.

This large amount far exceeded the expectations of the army of workers in charge of the campaign and is one of the greatest ever received at so early a stage in a similar campaign.
The greatest enthusiasm prevails at the noonday luncheons given daily to the workers at the headquarters of the committees in charge in Ebbell clubhouse in Harrison street near Fourteenth. At the luncheon today the teams were fully represented and a number of captains spoke of their work, guaranteeing that the required amount would be raised if the public would co-operate, and from present indications nearly every man and woman is taking an interest in the cause.

Among the four committees—known as the citizens', the business men's, the women's and the young women's committees—are many of the leading men and women of the city, and they are doing yeoman service to secure the amount needed to insure the new building. It has been pointed out that the quarters of the organization have outgrown their usefulness and in order to do the work a better and larger building is necessary.

NEED OF STRUCTURE.
It has been realized since 1907 that radical measures were necessary to give Oakland the sort of building which is to be found in many of the cities of the country. At that time the present administration building of the organization was purchased for $40,000. This is at Fourteenth and Castro streets. Since that time the number of people using the building has increased, until it is entirely inadequate and, from an economic standpoint, impossible to operate.
Plans had been put under way for a building campaign when the Young Women's Christian Association started a canvass and it was given the field.
The time has now arrived, according to Miss Grace M. Fisher, president of the Oakland Y. W. C. A., when the great work must be done.
In addition to the $75,000 pledged at the banquet opening the campaign, $11,347 was secured yesterday. This

Announcement of the suit filed by the law firm of Chapman & Tre-forth, in behalf of J. J. Carroll, against the M. Friedman Realty Company for $20,000 damages has aroused great interest among baseball fans and business men generally. The case involves several unusual points and a ruling will be awaited eagerly by scores of people.
Carroll is a prominent merchant who leased property at 469 Tenth street from Friedman nine years ago and has been occupying the premises ever since. His lease runs until June 15, 1915.

With an eye to business, he erected at the place of business a large scoreboard on which every afternoon every detail of the baseball game in progress was shown and the score by innings in the north and south displayed. As a result, hundreds of fans showed their appreciation by visiting the scene every afternoon, and passersby spread news of the progress of the game throughout the downtown district. The policeman, the motorman, the newsboys, the stall merchant, and even the society woman, passing by, glanced at the scoreboard and spread the news.

During the intermissions customers called on Carroll and the patronage increased to an extent that the scoreboard was a good investment.

Last Saturday, however, the complaint sets forth that the owner of the building caused the sign to be removed. The complaint sets forth that Friedman had no authority from the tenant to interfere and that there was nothing in the lease to warrant such interference.

Not only were the receipts of the house greatly diminished by the removal of the scoreboard, but baseball enthusiasts generally attributed the action to Carroll, with consequent embarrassment to him.

At his own trouble and expense,
Carroll had the scoreboard erected on a neighboring building, where it is now in operation.

The complaint sets forth that because of loss of big prospective business the plaintiff has been damaged to the extent of $20,000, and judgment is asked for that amount.

SUSPENSION IS UPHELD BY COURT

"Good Enuff Klub," Supposed Fraternity, Loses In Lawsuit.

Five Oakland High School boys who were suspended for one year by the Board of Education last December on the charge of being members of the Good Enuff Klub, declared by the board to be affiliated with the Gamma Eta Kappa fraternity, will have to abide by the board's action. Late yesterday the opinion of Superior Judge N. D. Arnot was received from Placerville. He upheld the board members, and refused to issue a writ of mandamus compelling them to reinstate the youths.

Those affected by the decision are,
Frank M. Ogden, son of Superior
Judge F. E. Ogden, Albert Hill, Bruce
Hill, F. M. Hook, and Joseph Bell.
Following the suspension, suit for an injunction was brought against the board, the boys retaining attorneys to fight their case. The maintained that they had been the subjects of discrimination on the part of the Board of Education, which had voted four to three in favor of ousting them from the school. The suit was heard today by the board, which expected an infrat law of the board. The boys were given a lengthy hearing before the High School board at the time when Principal Keyes of the school filed his information against the pupils.

Keyes declared that the boys were wearing a pin which had the same colors on it as were the colors of the fraternity. He said that all the boys were closely associated with alumni members of the fraternity, and that hearing developed that the Klub's meetings were sometimes interspersed with those of the fraternity. The board held that the Klub, which had the same initial letters as those of the high school fraternal organization, was practically identical in that it was used as a preliminary step to membership in the fraternity. Most of the members, it was shown, expected an early future time to belong to the frat.

In his opinion Judge Arnot stated that he felt he had no right to interfere with the action of the school board.

The decision is the result of nearly two years fighting between members of high school fraternities in local schools and the board. When the decision was rendered, it should not be any more fraternities allowed in the schools, and ordered that the pupils who were members discard all insignia of such organizations, pupils formed clubs, which were declared by the board to be but a guise for the secret orders.

From time to time the matter would crop out, and several pupils would be taken to task for their actions. The matter was not taken to the courts, however, until last December, when five youths were suspended at once. It was determined then to test the case, with the result that suit was filed to compel the board to re-instate them.

FILES OPINION.

Following is the opinion in full as rendered by Judge Arnot:
"It is the contention of the plaintiff that the defendant Board of Education acted in an arbitrary manner in suspending them from the Oakland High School in which they were pupils, and that the purpose of the board was to annoy and harass them in so doing. It seems to me that the charge is without foundation. The members of the Board of Education who voted in favor of suspending these boys with fraud; because, if true, they would be guilty of depriving these pupils of their constitutional right to attend school. We do not believe this charge has been sustained by the evidence produced at the trial.

"Boards of Education are given full power by law and are required to enforce the provision of the anti-frat law by suspending, or, if necessary, expelling a pupil who refuses or neglects to obey the rules and regulations of these boards. In considering these matters, these boards have quasi-judicial capacity, with no methods of procedure prescribed by the legislature.

"These boys were given a hearing before the board upon charges that they had violated certain rules and regulations of the board. They were represented by able counsel. The members of the board divided on the question of their guilt, four members voting in favor of them and three voting against suspension.

LA FOLLETTE TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

"Bob" Burdette Announces
Himself in Favor of Taft Candidacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—With three weeks' working time before the Presidential primary election, champions of the various Presidential aspirants are taking the trail for the final roundup of voters.

Senator Robert M. La Follette left for Fresno today and will open his California campaign in that city tonight. He will speak in Los Angeles tomorrow night, and will be closely followed by Governor Hiram W.
Johnson, who will invade the southern metropolis Monday in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt. Governor Johnson is suffering from a throat infection, but he says he will find sufficient voice to answer the Senator's arguments.

Francis J. Heney, also out for Roosevelt, is scheduled for a series of addresses in Central and Northern California towns, extending until May 10. Madril McCormick will carry the banner for Roosevelt throughout Northern California, where the Roosevelt sentiment is regarded as less flourishing than in the south.

The Taft forces were cheered today by the news from Los Angeles that "Bob" Burdette, clergyman and humorist, had made public a statement advocating the renomination of the President. Ralph D. Cole of Ohio has stirred up the Taft campaign in the north and will deliver addresses here tonight and tomorrow.

While a number of women's political organizations have been formed as adjuncts to the men's clubs, the lines have not yet been clearly drawn among the women voters and there has been no general organization by them. Mrs. La Follette addressed the San Francisco chapter of the California Civic League, a state organization, of women yesterday, but did not touch on the present campaign.
Her subject was "Twenty-five Years of Progressivism."

ACCOUNTING RENDERED.
Final account was rendered today in the estate of the late Sebastian La-pierre. Grapichettes and Judge Ogden ordered that the report of Jean Grapich-ettes, administrator, be allowed.

That those members of the Board of Education who voted to suspend acted in an arbitrary manner and for the purpose of annoying and harassing them.

"Under these circumstances, this court has no right to substitute its judgment for that of the Board of Education."

Property at Sixteenth Street Is Purchased From Fire Chief

M. Friedman of San Francisco
Shows Faith in Oakland Realty.

McHenry & Kaiser this morning announced the sale of the southwest corner of Sixteenth and Clay streets to
M. Friedman of San Francisco for $150,000. The sellers, represented by
D. F. Minney, were Fire Chief N. A.
Ball, Francis J. Ball and A. Ball, who have held the property for years and seen it rise from a fair residence value to its present market in the new business center of Oakland. The property has a frontage on Clay street of 60 feet and on Sixteenth street, of 100 feet. At present it is occupied by old residences, which must now give way to the march of progress.

McHenry & Kaiser received many congratulations this morning on their enterprise in capping a long string of important sales recently by bringing to Oakland this new lot of capital.

Friedman had gone East in search of investments, but was brought back on hearing of the favorable condition of the Oakland market.

He has not yet decided what use to make of his purchase, but is investigating the cost of improving the property for business purposes.

Only a block away are the new emporiums of H. C. Caswell and Taft & Pennoyer, with the foundations being laid, also in the neighborhood, of the great Kahn store. The northwest corner of Sixteenth and Clay streets was sold recently by the Alameda County Loan Association to Dr. George H. Derrick and the latter contemplates the erection of modern stores on the property.

Oakland Continues to Play Classy Ball and Beavers Are Decisively Defeated

ONWARD AND UPWARD GO THE HOPES OF OAKLAND

Cy Parkin Shows Beavers What Pitching Is and His Victory Is an Easy One

PORTLAND, April 25.—The leaders got their first real crack at the Portland hopes and prizes here yesterday afternoon and at the end of the season on the ball field it was a wash of white, with the Sharpshooters smearing on the whitewash, the final score reading, Oakland 5, Portland 0.

There is no mystery as to why the Oaks won—it was just too much Cy Parkin on the hill for them and not enough Gilligan on the hill for the Beavers. When a pitcher makes a ball player stand up at the plate and swing his head off and only gather three dinky hits out of thirty-four tries, while the other fellow gets thirty-three, it is not the same number of tries something is going to happen and it did.

For four innings things looked lovely. Mac's men and their troubles came for a quartet of bingles gave the Oaks two tallies and nine more bingles before the scene ended gave them three more tallies. As to those runs, here is the way the Oaks landed them:

Coy beat out a bunt down the third-base line and Patterson followed with a two-bagger to left. Heeling hit to right and before Doane could get the ball back to the infield Coy had registered. Wilkinson poked it over the pitcher's head and Pat loped across the plate. Mize laid down a bunt that was allowed to go as a hit, and Wilson poked on second, but Parkin whiffed and Cook was an easy out.

With one down in the sixth Hatling settled the bunt in right field and moved up on Wilkinson's infield bing. Mize batted, but Cy Parkin was there with a double to left that scored Gus. Gilligan, who had been pitching in different ball, was partly responsible for a run for the visitors in the seventh. He laid a fast one up against Leard's fifth vertebra, and the latter when he had recovered, pliffed second. He scored when Coy straggled to right.

Wilkinson opened the eighth with a slam through the pitcher's box recently vacated by Gilligan, and then occupied by Girard. Patterson, a crut south-paw, Mize fled to Doane, but Parkin got a hit when Girard slipped on the molsened ground and put Patterson on second. Leard's force out of Parkin to Baneroff at second put the young first-sacker on third, and he scored in an attempt to complete a double. Baneroff hit the grandstand buck of Bret. Chadbourne, Rapps and Lindsay were the only Beavers to solve Parkin, the errors of the Oaks' infielders being made on easy chances.

The fact that the Girard Piano Company enjoys the public confidence has been immensely demonstrated since the inauguration of our Big Blue Arrow Clearance Sale of used pianos.

The absolute safety which surrounds the purchaser of a piano under the Big Blue Arrow System makes piano buying a pleasure.

What is the Blue Arrow System? Simply this—Note the Blue Arrows and the piano which is advertised under each arrow, come to the Girard Piano Company's store and you will find the real Big Blue Arrow with its price and terms attached to each piano. Just as advertised. Simple plan, isn't it? No chance to go wrong.

TO PLACE BOAT ON NEW ROUTE

Steamer Empress Will Ply Between Richmond and San Francisco.

RICHMOND, April 25.—The steamer Empress, which has been operated by the Lauritzen Transportation company, of which Captain Lauritzen of this city is the head, through the islands of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, is to be taken off that run shortly and placed on the ferry service which Captain Lauritzen is soon to inaugurate between Richmond and San Francisco. The headquarters of the company will be in this city at the head of Cutting canal, where a large force of workmen is now busy constructing wharfs and warehouses for their steaming and storing of freight. The Empress is a 40-ton stern-wheel steamer and the captain will make two trips a day with her between here and San Francisco with cargoes of merchandise for local merchants. Following this service a line of barges with a heavy tug will be put on to make the river points for the agricultural products of that region, which will be dispensed among the commission men and other merchants of Oakland and Richmond at a considerable reduction in price to the consumer over that now being paid, according to the statement of Captain Lauritzen.

ROSE LEAVES TAKE PLACE OF RICE

Miss Louise Childs Becomes the Bride of William D. Tillinghast.

PIEDMONT, April 26.—Under a canopy of white tulle, festooned with pink blossoms and asparagus fern, Miss Louise Childs became Mrs. William D. Tillinghast. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Herbert J. Jumbo of the First Congregational church, took place at Mowbray Hall. The bride, gown in rare old lace, a family heirloom, carried a shower bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and asparagus fern. She was attended by Mrs. William Edie as matron of honor, and Miss Ruth Sturtevant as bridesmaid, both of whom carried shower bouquets of bridesmaid robes. Betty Nye, the bride's 4-year-old cousin, was ribbon-bearer. The bride was accompanied to the altar by her mother, where they were joined by the groom, who was attended by his brother, Donald Tillinghast, and Richard Roundtree. Only the relatives and the old friends of the two families attended the ceremony, among these being the bride's grandfather, Albert Nye, who recently celebrated his 84th birthday anniversary. After congratulations of the bride and her friends the happy couple left the hall amid a shower of rose leaves. Mr. and Mrs. Tillinghast will return to Piedmont from their wedding trip, and for the present at the home of Mrs. Childs on Highland avenue.
